Dear Parent / Carers

As you will have seen from the school newsletter over the last few weeks we will be marking the Platinum Jubilee on Thursday 26th May with a dress up day. To mark the Queen's Jubilee and celebrate her 70 years on the throne, we are inviting children to come to school dressed patriotically- this could mean wearing red, white and blue, donning a Union Jack t-shirt or dressing as a member of the Royal Family! I'm sure we'll see plenty of crowns and Union Jacks around school.

We will celebrate this momentous occasion with a Jubilee parade of outfits in the morning, activities in the classrooms and a Royal Tea Party at lunchtime. We are hoping we'll all be able to eat outside together for this- fingers crossed for picnic weather! Those who have not booked the Royal Tea Party lunch will still be able to join us outside. We will also plant a commemorative tree and sing the National Anthem.

We will end the day with Collective Worship where we will find out more about the Queen and her role as the head of the Church of England.

We hope this will be a memorable day for everyone. Children are welcome to bring in small Union Jack flags to wave as part of their outfit.

Yours sincerely
John Bayes
